

Building a Healthy Community

A multi-service centre offering health and community programs for individuals, families, children, youth, seniors, and newcomers to Canada

Over 35 years of service to the community

LAMP Community Health Centre

is a multi-service, non-profit, charitable organization that provides primary health care, illness prevention programs, health promotion, and a wide range of community services that reflect the needs of our residents. LAMP is governed by a community-elected board of directors.

Our programs specifically address the priorities of our local communities. We offer an integrated approach to health and well-being. Health professionals work as a team to focus on the needs of every client and link them to the services they require.

Our staff delivers social, community, and recreational programs to improve the well-being of individuals, children, youth, and families, especially those who face barriers in accessing services.

We partner with a wide range of other non-profit agencies and charitable organizations to ensure that specific needs of our community are addressed.

In July 2008, LAMP opened the first community health centre in the Peel Region - the East Mississauga Community Health Centre. Please refer to separate information for details on its programs and services.

We are committed to helping everyone in our community get access to the resources and support that they need.

It is currently spearheading discussions on affordable housing, recreation, transportation, and tenant rights issues in the community.

Health Promotion

Health promotion is based on preventing illness and helping people have greater control over their own health and the health of their community.

We understand that health is more than the absence of disease. Other factors affect our health like stress, poverty, income and employment, education, housing, as well as friends and family (social support). By addressing these needs, we improve our health and opportunities for the future.

To achieve this goal, LAMP is involved in a number of activities such as advocacy, community development, education, and personal skills development.

We believe that some members of the community have greater needs and fewer choices and therefore require more of our services, advocacy, and support. Empowering people strengthens the whole community.

Onsite Community Partners

LAMP partners with other community agencies that provide services and support for residents in our area.

Etobicoke Housing Help Centre – Information, referrals, and support for community and subsidized housing, and landlord-tenant support.
